ledger reset

by jed » Sat Dec 22, 2012 4:20 am

The ledger was just reset. So ask me or arthur for credits again.
This will be the final ledger baring some catastrophe.

Can I get some credits at the following address to test a little bit?
rLp9pST1aAndXTeUYFkpLtkmtZVNCms2Hc

Thank you.

Just created my first wallet. Can I get some coins to sent to - please?

EDIT: Oops, copied/pasted the secret key...wasn't paying attention...just created a new wallet 😞.

Can I get some coins sent to rLhyXnYyYcbAohmhybf89yeBtzV1bvsWso please?

I created a test account at ripple.com's web based client, since I am not sure of the security model I want to get a real client of my own running before making a "real" account. It gave me this address to ask for coins to be sent to: rpVft3wic2fZ2saY5BjEtL8R2NPrubxWG5

Anyone have any clue how to make the client "source code" from github work? It has nothing in its README about whether it needs some kind of building or compiling and if so how to do that, nor how to "run" it...

Congratulations!

I could use some XRP for testing: rf9gutfmGB8CH39W2PCeRbLWMKRauYyVfx

Thanks,
